

Ceramic Jewellery and Miniatures

Course Overview

This 7-week course will give you the chance to work with clay on a small scale, using design work and various decorative techniques to develop and make a range of ceramic jewellery or miniature sculptures, using your own unique motifs. We will use hand-building and slabbing techniques, plaster stamps and moulds, and you can try your hand at colouring porcelain clay with stains and pigments. You will be encouraged to use a sketchbook to design and develop your ideas, produce test-tiles and keep a note of the techniques and processes you use to inform your final piece.

What you will learn

During this course you will be: Exploring the potential and limitations of plastic clay and porcelain in the development of small-scale, experimental, and non-functional objects. Using a diverse range of source materials to design and develop motifs, surface pattern and forms. Embellishment of traditional jewellery shapes, brooches, earrings and pendants, or abstract miniature sculptures. You will understand the basics of test-tiles, staining clays, glazing bisqueware and firing. Health and safety in the workshop will also be covered.
